Colonial Dames Meet.
The Virginia Society of Colonial Dames held their March meeting yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the Virginia Historical Society.
Mrs. Barrett Wendell, of Boston, Mass., who is the guest in Richmond of Mrs. William Ruffin Cox, gave a most interesting account to the Virginia Dames of the Massachusetts exhibit at the Jamestown Exposition—of the rare articles in silver, lace and old embroideries, manuscripts and portraits that will be sent by the Massachusetts Society.
It was decided by the society that a tablet should be placed by it to mark the site of the old Raleigh Tavern, in Williamsburg, Va. The meeting was largely attended, and was presided over by Mrs. W. R. Cox.

Contributions to Building.
Mrs. William R. McKenney, president of the Virginia Division, Daughters of the Confederacy, has sent the following circular letter, explaining the desirability of the Daughters' building at Jamestown, and the plan for raising necessary funds:
The Daughters of the Confederacy of the Virginia Division, realizing that an opportunity was with their grasp to honor the cause they love, conceived the plan of erecting a suitable gathering place for the U. D. C. and their friends at Jamestown Exposition. To perfect their plans, they have undertaken to build a replica of "Beauvoir." This is the first time that the Confederate organizations have ever been represented at any exposition, except by a few relics in some building not their own or by one day set aside by the exposition managers. It is a big undertaking for one division, but they are relying upon those who should be equally interested in bringing this enterprise to a successful completion. There will be a comfortable resting place, a checkroom, and other conveniences not found in the ordinary headquarters, while Virginia Daughters will always be present to welcome guests.
Membership cards at fifty cents each, entitling the holder to above named privileges, will be sent upon application to Mrs. C. B. Tate, treasurer, Draper, Va. Prompt assistance from our friends is necessary in order to complete and do credit to this undertaking, which will cost $5,000. In connection with the headquarters there will be an attractive dining-room under the supervision of Mrs. L. E. Williams, where meals will be served to the public at the most reasonable rates possible, and where Southern dishes will be made a specialty.

Respectfully.
Mrs. WILLIAM R. MCKENNEY,
President Virginia Division, Petersburg.
Mrs. C. B. Tate, Treasurer, Draper, Va.

On Wenlock Edge.

By A. E. HOUSMAN.

Other selections from this author, his portrait, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

On Wenlock Edge the wood's in trouble;
His forest fleece the Wrekin heaves;
The gale, it plies the saplings double,
And thick on Severn snow the leaves.

'Twould blow like this through holt and hanger
When Uricon the city stood,
'Tis the old wind in the old anger,
But then it threshed another wood.

Then, 'twas before my time, the Roman
At yonder heaving hill would stare;
The blood that warms an English yeoman,
The thoughts that hurt him, they were there.

There, like the wind through woods in riot,
Through him the gale of life blew high;
The tree of man was never quiet;
Then 'twas the Roman, now 'tis I.

The gale, it plies the saplings double,
It blows so hard, 'twill soon be gone:
To-day the Roman and his trouble
Are ashes under Uricon.

WALLEN WILL CASE.

Argument Heard by Supreme Court Yesterday.

Argument on an appeal from the decision of the chancery judge in the Wallen will case was heard yesterday in the Supreme Court of Appeals.

The case came up in the form of Alice H. Wallen vs. J. H. Wallen and others. James Johnson, a negro, was fined $2.50 in Police Court yesterday morning for being disorderly on a West-hampton Street car. The fine was promptly remitted by Justice Crutchfield, who told Captain Gulgon, attorney for the Passenger and Power Company, that to his mind the only thing the negro had done was to offer a ticket in payment of his fare.

The company charges cash fares on this line. When the negro offered the ticket he was told to pay cash, and not having any money he was placed under arrest by the conductor. Mr. John Kruse, a passenger, testified that the negro was not disorderly, and that he had left the car after being arrested by the conductor.

The Corporation Commission is now considering the question of forcing the street car company to give tickets on all its lines, and also to issue transfers to the suburban lines. The recent annexation of territory placed the terminal of the Westhampton line within the city limits.

Newspaper Tributes.

On the demise of the late

Henry Clay Payne, a concern in New York gathered from the papers published throughout the United States 4,685 newspaper stories of the life and career of the deceased.

These items were carefully mounted on Irish linen leaves and bound in 6 volumes, 400 pages to the book. A cover of genuine seal was appropriately lettered in gold and the entire material, representing the work of many people for several months, has just been delivered to Mrs. Payne at Milwaukee.

Mr. Burrelle, who makes a specialty of this unique method of preserving family history, also compiled four volumes containing the letters, telegrams and cards of condolence received by the family, all constituting a family heirloom that will be handed down to future generations.

This work is one of the several developments of the press clipping industry and Mr. Burrelle has made a special study of the work he created several years ago.
